

leading auto parts suppliers maintain smooth recruiting processes and candidate experience during corporate restructuring.

industry: mobility technology and advanced propulsion/aftermarket solutions challenge

Given the demerger transition from one company to two distinct businesses, the companies sought to separate their recruiting processes with little to no disruption.

solution

Recruitment process outsourcing (RPO) allows the two companies to focus on setting up their new infrastructures while maintaining a seamless process for candidates.

key results

Throughout the split and ongoing evolution, both companies continue to meet or exceed their KPIs. New hire satisfaction scores average at 3.6 out of 4 for the aftermarket solutions company, and time to fill is under 30 days for the mobility technology company.

> read the full case study

