

2021's top talent trends for Australia.

58%
say the role of HR has shifted significantly.

76%
say their business will consider some sort of permanent work-from-home policy.

64%
say a wellness program is extremely or very important to attracting talent.

44%
share they are investing in technology to improve the talent experience in the workplace.

78%
say talent analytics play a critical role in sourcing, attracting, engaging and retaining talent. Last year, this figure was 88%.

50%
say talent scarcity has either made a negative impact or been one of their organization's biggest pain points.

33%
of employees were working remotely before the pandemic, and that number went up to 57% as of Q4 2020.

90%
say it's either extremely or very important to have a robust diversity and inclusion strategy to attract and retain talent.

100%
believe reskilling their employees will help retention.

82%
believe workers' expectations of employers are continually increasing.

get your 2021 Talent Trends Report