

2021's top talent trends for China.

56%
say the role of HR has shifted significantly.

70%
say their business will consider some sort of permanent work-from-home policy.

62%
say a wellness program is extremely or very important to attracting talent.

32%
share they are investing in technology to improve the talent experience in the workplace.

84%
say talent analytics play a critical role in sourcing, attracting, engaging and retaining talent.

54%
say talent scarcity has either made a negative impact or been one of their organization's biggest pain points.

21%
of employees were working remotely before the pandemic, and that number went up to 36% as of Q4 2020.

80%
say it's either extremely or very important to have a robust diversity and inclusion strategy to attract and retain talent.

63%
believe reskilling their employees will help retention.

70%
believe workers' expectations of employers are continually increasing.

get your 2021 Talent Trends Report